Dear [redacted]

The attached is a breakdown of the previously submitted cost proposal. I have added a one-day, three-person trip to D.C. at the end of Task 2. A logical Task 2 product would be an annotated bibliography with summary evaluation tables plus a progress briefing at your facility. I would hope, however, that the effort would not terminate at the end of the proposed Task 2, for I feel we would add a considerable amount of knowledge during Tasks 3 and 4. That is, the end of Task 4 would be a logical decision point, not the end of Task 2.

Please let me know if you need any additional information. Whenever you feel it appropriate, I can secure the letters of consulting approval from the University. They typically require about 2-3 weeks. We can complete whatever security forms are necessary if you would send them to me. As you, Joe, and I discussed, it might be best to set up the formal contract through another agency inasmuch as some foreign travel may occur in the future.

Sincerely,

Harry
